1. Introduction

This motions seeks the Court's order for leave to file the attached proposed First Amended Complaint.

The original complaint was filed in the San Diego Superior Court on November 7, 2007. That complaint alleges that Defendants the Board of Trustees of the California State University and San Diego State University (SDSU) unlawfully discriminated and retaliated against Deena Deardurff Schmidt, the coach of SDSU's women's swimming and diving teams, in violation of Title 9, 20 U.S.C. §1681 et seq., and California's Fair Employment and Housing Act (FEHA), Govt. Code §12940 et seq. The

1 complaint also alleges that SDSU's Athletic Director, Defendant
 2 Jeff Schemmel, unlawfully retaliated against Ms. Schmidt in 3 violation of FEHA.

4 Defendants removed the case to federal court and filed an 5 answer. Magistrate Judge William McCurine has conducted an early 6 neutral evaluation. Initial disclosures have been made but formal 7 discovery will not commence until May 23, 2008.

8 In addition to numbering changes, the proposed First Amended
 9 Complaint changes the complaint in two respects. First, Jeff 10 Schemmel is dropped as a defendant, because of a change in 11 California law which occurred after the complaint was filed.
 12 Second, the second cause of action for sex discrimination under 13 Title 9 is clarified and amplified. The factual allegations
 14 remain the same.

15 Under the liberal standard for allowing amendment to 16 pleadings, no good reason exists to deny leave to amend and the 17 amended complaint must be ordered filed.

18 2. Leave To File The First Amended Complaint Must Be Granted

19 Rule 15(a) provides that leave to amend "shall be freely
 20 given when justice so requires." Rule 15's policy of favoring 21 amendments to pleadings should be applied with "extreme
 22 liberality." DCD Programs, Ltd., v. Leighton, 833 F.2d 183, 186
 23 (9th Cir. 1987) Amendment of a pleading must be granted in the 24 absence of bad faith, undue delay, prejudice to the opposing 25 party, and futility of amendment. Foman v. Davis, 371 U.S. 178,
 26 182 (1962); DCD Programs, Ltd., v. Leighton, supra at 186.

1 A. No Bad Faith

2 The proposed amended complaint is not brought in bad faith,
3 and there is no evidence of bad faith. The First Amended
4 Complaint demonstrates Plaintiff's good faith because it results
5 in the dropping of Jeff Schemmel as a defendant. On March 3, 6 2008, the California Supreme Court decided Jones v. The Lodge at 7 Torrey Pines (2008) 42 Cal.4th 1158, which held that an 8 individual cannot be a defendant in a FEHA retaliation claim 9 except possibly in circumstances not applicable to this case.
10 Accordingly, and in good faith, Plaintiff reluctantly drops Jeff
11 Schemmel as a defendant. The dropping of a defendant is a valid
12 purpose for amendment of a complaint. See Samaha v. Presbyterian
13 Hospital, 757 F.2d 529, 531 (2d Cir. 1985)

14 B. No Undue Delay

15 This motion to amend is filed within the time set by the 16 Magistrate Judge filing motions to amend pleadings.

17 C. No Prejudice To Defendants

18 Filing of the First Amended Complaint will not prejudice
19 Defendants. A new party is not added and discovery has only just 20 begun.

21 D. Not Futile

22 Nor is the proposed amendment futile. Leave to amend must be 23 granted even if an amendment does not state a claim unless it
24 appears beyond doubt that the amendment would be dismissed
25 because Plaintiff could prove no set of facts which would entitle 26 her to relief. DCD Programs, Ltd., v. Leighton, supra at 188.

27 The only substantive amendment of the complaint is 28 Plaintiff's clarification and amplification of her second claim

1 for relief for sex discrimination under Title 9, 20 U.S.C.
 2 §1681(a). The complaint alleges that Defendants denied Plaintiff
 3 pay, limited the duration of her contract, imposed unrealistic
 4 expectations, did not renew her contract and terminated her
 5 "because of her sex, in violation of 20 U.S.C. §1681(a)."
 6 (Complaint p.8 lines 21-24 ¶40) The First Amended Complaint
 7 alleges that Defendants undertook these same adverse employment
 8 actions "because of her sex and/or because of intentional
 9 discrimination against her as a result of sex discrimination
 10 against the female student athletes whom she coached, in 11 violation of 20 U.S.C. §1681(a)." (First Amended Complaint p.11 12 lines 19-21 ¶39.)

13 Title 9 provides in relevant part that "no person ... shall,
 14 on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied 15 the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any 16 education program or activity receiving Federal financial 17 assistance." 20 U.S.C. §1681(a) The scope of Title 9 is drawn 18 from its text, which broadly prohibits a funding recipient from 19 subjecting any person to intentional "discrimination" "on the 20 basis of sex." 20 U.S.C. 1681(a); Jackson v. Birmingham Board
 21 of Education, 544 U.S. 167, 173 (2005). A victim of prohibited
 22 Title 9 discrimination need not be discriminated against on the 23 basis of his or her own sex. Id. at 179. In Jackson, the Supreme 24 Court held that termination of a teacher's coaching duties in 25 retaliation for his protests about discrimination against a
 26 girl's athletic team violated Title 9; retaliation is an 27 intentional act which subjected the teacher to differential
 28 treatment "on the basis of sex," i.e. in response to the nature

1 of the protests against sex discrimination against the girls'
2 team. Id. at 173-4. In like vein, subjecting Schmidt to 3 "intentional discrimination against her as a result of sex
4 discrimination against the female student athletes whom she 5 coached" alleges "discrimination" "on the basis of sex" in 6 violation of Title 9.

7 The proposed amendment to the second claim for relief is not 8 futile.

9 3. Conclusion

10 The letter and spirit of Rule 15(a) require the granting of 11 leave to file the proposed First Amended Complaint. No good 12 reason exists to deny leave to amend.
